LOCAL GOVERNEMENT AND SCHOOL STAFF - NEW PAY CAMPAIGN UNDERWAY

Following on from the agreement between GMB and the other local government unions to open the 2016/17 pay round as early as possible, the trade union side of the National Joint Council has agreed a joint claim which has been formally submitted to the national employers as follows -

1. Deletion of NJC and all local pay points which fall below the level of the UK Living Wage (and deletion of GLPC pay points below London Living Wage) and a flat rate increase of £1 per hour on all other pay points.
2. Retention and protection of Green Book Part 2 terms and conditions.
3. Fair treatment for school support staff through a joint review of term time working.

The first item is the headline pay demand and in effect it means 'pay the Living Wage or give a £1 an hour pay rise, whichever is greater'. This is consistent with our claim for last years' negotiations and since GMB began its Living Wage campaign in 2013 nearly half of all Councils now pay it. The official Living Wage is £7.85 an hour (£9.15 in London).

The second item is to establish a base line that makes clear our national agreement is not up for grabs. As well as the overwhelming majority of Councils, there are thousands of other employers like academy schools, charities, housing associations and contractors that use the Green Book - it is the essential set of terms and conditions for the whole of the local government sector./cont'd...

The third item is specific to school support staff whose term-time contractual arrangement has long been seen as a disadvantage compared to other groups - pay is reduced for term time workers on the grounds that they have longer holidays but on the other hand they have no choice over those holidays. It's high time this was sorted out properly and fairly.

In submitting our claim we are very aware that local authority budgets are tight and we hope that by initiating discussions early it will give all employers time to plan to meet our claim. I expect we will get a response next month and I will communicate this to you along with the next steps in our campaign.

GMB oppose Redundancy capping

GMB Warns That Government Plans To Cap Public Sector Redundancy Will Hit Low And Average Paid Employees And Will Break The Public Sector Pension Agreement

The £95,000 limit is also intended to apply to pension payments so the cap could actually affect people earning less than £20,000 a year says GMB

Commenting on the new government consultation on capping redundancy pay-outs to public sector workers,

Brian Strutton, GMB National Secretary said "Whether by design or error, the government's proposals go far beyond capping pay-outs to the highest paid public servants when they are made redundant.

In fact, the £95,000 limit is also intended to apply to pension payments so the cap could actually affect people earning less than £20,000 a year.

It will also mean changing pension scheme rules to reduce people's benefits, despite Treasury assurances that this would not happen for at least the next 25 years.

I don't think the government realises quite how contentious this is going to be. GMB will oppose this ill-considered and unjustified attack on average and low paid front line public servants who lose their job through government budget cuts and no fault of their own."

Brian Strutton, GMB National Secretary

Oppose the Trade Union Bill

The Tories want to restrict our ability to protect our member's terms and conditions at work, limit our ability to strike and restrict our ability to campaign on the political issues which matter.

We need to stand together to stop this bill which represents an attack on both our human and democratic right to organise collectively.
